The eight books in Cicerone's Lakeland Fellranger series provide a comprehensive and contemporary guide to the fells of the English Lake District.

Each fell has its own chapter, and the variety of routes on the fell are depicted on Harvey maps and fellscape diagrams. The scenic qualities of the landscape are illustrated by colour photographs and by detailed summit panoramas.

The Near Eastern Fells comprise the mighty range of hills, including Helvellyn, that lie between Ambleside and Threlkeld. The area is flanked to the west by Grasmere, Dunmail Raise and Thirlmere, and to the east by Kirkstone Pass, Patterdale and Ullswater.
