Inviting the reader to experience less well-known regions as much as those that are eternally popular, this inspirational guide offers 40 memorable excursions among the valleys and heights of Snowdonia. These mainly circular routes have been chosen to encourage independent exploration of the National Park, while offering the safe hand of guidance for those who prefer their walking days to be tailor-made.

The 40 walks are all graded, making the guide equally suitable for less experienced walkers looking for adventure, new discoveries and the joy of exploration.

Routes throughout the Snowdonia National Park area are illustrated with Harvey maps and pictorial route diagrams by Lakeland artist, Mark Richards. Some routes include mild scrambling and/or long days in rugged country, and many can be enjoyed all year round.

Key marketing points

- Follows the same format as the bestselling 'Great Mountain Days in the Lake District'
- Author is highly regarded, with lifelong experience of Snowdonia
- 6 million visitors to the National Park each year

About the author

Terry Marsh is a full-time writer and photographer specialising in the outdoors. His involvement with Snowdonia began in 1970 when he moved to Bangor, and soon became a voluntary warden in the Snowdonia National Park. His first book was 'The Summits of Snowdonia', followed a year later by 'The Mountains of Wales'. This is his seventh book for Cicerone.
