This book is an inspirational and detailed guide to 50 memorable expeditions across the rolling Pennine landscape. The routes have been chosen to provide a range of essential walks for exploring the region. The walks are all graded, from moderate to strenuous, and are between 6–13 miles, making the guide equally suitable for both knowledgeable and less experienced walkers.

The ancient landscape of the Pennines offers walkers a great sense of leg-swinging freedom. Ranging between the North Pennines, Howgills, Yorkshire Dales, South Pennines and Dark Peak, this guide offers the best of the sprawl of fell and moorland that is the backbone of England.

A continuation of the Great Mountain Days series, the guide provides classic walks, all illustrated by stunning photography and shown on clear maps. With all the practical information you need to plan a classic walk in the Pennines, this book has it all.
