This guide describes the Peddars Way and Norfolk Coast Path – an easy-to-follow 130 mile national trail that combines the best of inland and coastal walking, and is ideal for those new to long-distance walks. The guide shows how to complete it over a week or, using excellent public transport links, split it over a series of weekends or one-day excursions.

The national trail is a walk of two halves. The Peddars Way begins at Knettishall Heath in Suffolk and follows the route of an old Roman road for over 40 miles to Holme-next-the-Sea, where it meets the Norfolk Coast Path (which begins nearby, at Hunstanton). As one, the trails then follow the coast to the seaside town of Hopton-on-Sea.

The terrain underfoot covers wild marshland, forest tracks and sandy beaches, while expansive skies give impressive views from start to finish. The book gives interesting details on the multitude of historic sites, picturesque villages and array of wildlife passed along the way, and lists accommodation options at each stage.
